Reliability Disclaimer

- Data-feed interruptions e.g., TradingView discontinues or suspends any essential reference series.
- Liquidity fragmentation Exchange delistings, regional trading bans, or other events that distort unified price discovery.
- Regime shifts Sustained compressions or spikes in volatility, depth, or participant mix that fall outside prior norms.
- Persistent behavioural changes Long-lasting shifts in how capital circulates among major digital-asset segments.
- Off-label usage Running the script on unsupported symbols, synthetic feeds, or time frames outside recommended bounds.

Azro Systems™ monitors these risk factors but makes no warranty—express or implied—that signals will remain reliable under all conditions. Users must validate outputs in real time, apply prudent risk-management practices, and supplement them with independent analysis before making any trading decision. Past performance is not indicative of future results.

Risk Disclaimer

Trading cryptocurrencies involves substantial risk and may not be suitable for all investors. Always conduct your own due diligence and consult a licensed financial professional before trading.
