

XRP Top/Bottom Indicator Quick Reference

Version v1.4.4

The base workflow in one sentence

Run BITSTAMP:XRPUSD on 1W regular candles, keep the Weekly Plan dashboard visible, review DO NOW after confirmed weekly closes, and keep alerts aligned with the current indicator settings.

Signal ladder

Output	What it means	Default action
MAJOR TOP	Serious weekly top confirmation.	Review defensive plan and dashboard before acting.
RADAR TOP	Early defensive top window.	Stay alert for the next confirmed weekly close.
MAJOR BOTTOM	Serious accumulation/bottom confirmation.	Review buy-side plan and risk context.
RADAR BOTTOM	Optional bottom-context confirmation.	Use only if this optional track is part of your plan.
LIGHT TOP/BOTTOM	Local context layer.	Optional heads-up only; not a major signal.
RISK (XRP)	Risk context layer.	Caution context; not a standalone order.

Correct alert triggers

Condition	Trigger
MAJOR TOP / RADAR TOP / MAJOR BOTTOM / RADAR BOTTOM	Once Per Bar Close
WEEKLY PLAN ACTION (XRP)	Once Per Bar Close
Any alert() function call	Once Per Bar Close
LIGHT TOP/BOTTOM and RISK (XRP)	Once Per Bar Close if used

Recommended default settings

Weekly-close rhythm

- Run BITSTAMP:XRPUSD on 1W, then check the weekly close rather than every intraday wobble.
- Compare the dashboard, signal labels, and alert stack after the bar closes.
- Log the action, notes, and any overrides in the Weekly Strategy Tracker.

Common mistakes to avoid

Weekly discipline protects the plan

Wrong timeframe, wrong XRP chart, stale alerts after a script update, overusing optional context alerts, changing plan inputs without a new Start date, or treating dashboard display changes as plan-input changes.
